

A character is a person or animal in a story. To help readers understand a character better, a story often gives details about the character.

ANN SHARP

Ann Sharp was a kind girl. One day she was out, and a poor girl came to her and said, "Give me some bread; I have had none to eat all day." So Ann said, "I have no bread, but here is six-pence that my mamma gave me, take it, and buy some bread."

The poor girl took it and said, "Oh! thank you, miss, I can now get something to eat, and will take some to my poor daddy who is sick."

Questions

Read the phrase inside each crayon. If it describes Ann, colour it green. If it describes the poor girl, colour it red. If it describes both, colour it yellow.

Write something you think is also a generous thing to do.
