

ANIMAL BEHAVIOUR

QUESTIONS

1. What is an example of ethology?

- A scientist mixing two chemicals and recording the results.
 - A scientist publishing an article in a journal.
 - A scientist growing mould in a lab.
 - A scientist observing bears as they prepare for winter.
- _____

2. Match the terms to complete the following statement.

SORT ELEMENTS – behaviour, instinct, ethology, imprinting

1. The actions and habits of a living creature is a _____ .
2. The scientific study of animal behaviour is called _____ .
3. A behaviour that is automatic, not learned is referred to as _____ .
4. _____ refers the way a young animal learns who its parents are