Mark and Lisa like to play in the snow. They are building a friendly snowman. First they gather as much snow as they could and form a huge white snow ball. “Perfect” they exclaimed. Next, they gather more snow and form a smaller white snow ball. “Superb,” they exclaimed. Then they place the small white snow ball on top of the large snow ball. Then Lisa found two small flat stones and place it on the face of the smaller sphere. She smiles while Mark finally place a thin long carrot on the face as well. “Flawless,” the two shouted with a smile. The children had made themselves the best snow man ever.
