

Conjunctions and Commas

Use a comma between the main clauses in a compound sentence when you use the following conjunctions: and, but, or, nor, for, so, or yet. Place the comma before the coordinating conjunction.

---

Rewrite each sentence below, correcting any errors in the use of commas.

 You answered me but you do not hear me.

_____

 Sue does not know, how draw nor is she willing to learn how to draw.

_____

 How much did you pay, for this?

_____

 The guest took their seat at the table willingly enough for, they were all very hungry.

_____

 John did not feel right yet his doctor insisted he was doing fine.

_____

 She felt his face was familiar yet she was certain, she had never seen him before.

_____

 It was the worst news, yet.

_____

 John looked worried yet expectant.